

15 DELICIOUS CHARDONNAYS TO DRINK NOW P. 48

FOOD & WINE

42
RECIPES
FOR ALL YOUR SUMMER PARTIES

A NEW TAKE ON TOMATO
PIE P. 100

WE SAY TOMATO!

OBSSESSIONS

Move Over,
Curaçao Get cool
colors for your summer cocktails ...
naturally.

By Oset Babur

BLUE AND PURPLE DRINKS are lighting up cocktail menus across the country, from a pretty, floral concoction at Palm Beach bar Florie's to a spirit-free number at Chicago's Entente. Their color is achieved by distilling the extract or creating a tea from butterfly pea flowers, which turns drinks vibrant pinks, blues, and purples on contact with lemon or lime juice. At Layla in Sonoma, California, The Forager (pictured) uses Griffio gin, Italicus Rosolio, butterfly pea flower tea, cucumber, and lime for a cool take on a G&T. Watch Executive Wine Editor Ray Isle mix one up at foodandwine.com/bottleservice.